

SECTION 5

Finances - Costs and Benefits

There may be charges for the services received by the person you care for but they may also qualify for financial help and welfare benefits.

WHO WILL PAY?

As well as working out what services the person is entitled to through a Community Care Assessment, it is also necessary to calculate how much, if anything, they will pay towards these services.

This will be done through a financial assessment, where the finances of the person you care for will be assessed.

The person you are caring for can choose not to have a financial assessment and in this case they will be expected to pay the full charges for the services provided.

If the person your care for is aged 65 years or over on the day of discharge, and has been assessed as needing home care, then they are entitled to this free of charge for a maximum of 28 days.

However, free Personal Care, such as bathing and dressing, continues for those aged 65 years and over. For further information contact your local Social Work Service.
